REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art fails to teach: a method of manufacturing and laying a plurality of elongate elements into an umbilical having a core element, a plurality of metal conduits and at least one cable situated outside the core element, the core element being advanced along a feed line the conduits and cables being fed onto the outside of the core element and laid in a helix, the method comprising the steps of: providing a first group of single lengths of metal tubes forming the conduits, parallel one to another, so as to advance the single lengths in the direction of the feed line; providing a second group of single lengths of metal tubes, parallel one to another, so as to advance the lengths of the second group in the direction of the feed line; welding the first ends of the lengths of the second group to the second end of the lengths of the first group; providing further groups of single lengths of metal tubes and welding the further groups to the lengths of the foregoing group respectively such that the metal tubes, welded together, are laid to the outside of the core element in the form of a helix in the same working step in which they are welded together; advancing the single lengths of each group into a receptacle having a tube like form; and moving the receptacle into the feed line and taking up the core element in combination with the other elements of the claimed invention. .

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
